

CIGARETTE PAPERS

FOR AFTER-DINNER SMOKING
BY CHARLES LOWE

A Very False Prophet.

On July 14, the day before Hindenburg began his great offensive on the Marne which was to bring the German armies to Paris and victory, the Kaiser sent the following message to the Reichstag: "The Reichstag reassembled in the autumn the complete military victory of Germany will not only be assured, but will be evident to the whole world." The Reichstag has not yet reassembled, but already we are verging towards the middle of the autumn as indicated, alas! by the falling of the sere and yellow leaf, as well as by a morning sharpness of the air. But the Kaiser's confident prediction remains not only unfulfilled, but further still from realisation than ever. As a prophet the War Lord has had frightfully bad luck, and he is simply not in the same street with "Old Moore" or "Old Mother Shipton." How often has his Majesty not set a time-limit to the war of his creating? In its first year his armies, as he solemnly assured them, would be home before Christmas. He was recently told in session of the Chamber Party in a certain day; after that a date was fixed for their triumphal entry into Paris; next they were to be home with laurels round their brows before the leaves began to fall. They are now beginning to fall for the fifth time since the war began, and beyond all doubt the Hun hosts are further off than ever from their goal.

Our Victory Certain.

That they will never, never reach this goal is now the firm conviction of all the Allies, among whom there are no longer any doubting hearts. The reason for the cheering faith that is in us may be summarised as follows:—In the first place there is what might be called an arithmetical calculation. It was useless to speculate on what might have happened had America not come in to take the place of Russia, and far more than that. Even then, and with the Germans at Paris and the Channel Ports for lack of sufficient forces to keep them back, that would not have meant their ultimate victory and the end of the war—including Fins, Anglia—so long as the British Army continued to control the sea. Such a continuation of the conflict after the war without the help either of Russia or America is not pertinent to the present issue, which is the winning of the war and the conclusion of peace—not by pacifist and conference negotiation, a la the Congress of Vienna in 1814, or the Congress of Berlin in 1878, but by the dictation of terms at Potsdam.

to lose its head. There seems to be no coherent plan or sign of master mind in anything that it does. The War Lord once boasted to Mr. Gerard that he held the Allies in the hollow of his hand, for the reason that they enjoyed no unity of command, but the boot has now been shifted to the other leg. The Allied cause is now in the hands of one master, the chief of places on the Meaux and Soissons road where the French Army has been fighting, and the distinguished German hordes 4 years ago. A celebration will take place in London a few weeks hence and will be attended by Marshal Joffre and Lord French.

REIGN OF TERROR IN MOSCOW.

GRAVE FEARS FOR SAFETY OF 500 BRITISH RESIDENTS.

It was asserted yesterday that grave news of the position of British residents in Russia had reached London, and was causing great anxiety to the authorities. In Petrograd the Bolsheviks have placed the entire British colony under arrest. Among those in custody is Mr. A. W. Woodhouse, the British Consul. In Moscow matters have reached a still more alarming stage. Here the Bolsheviks have acted, it is feared, in frenzied hostility to the British and French population. There is no definite information, of course, as our only source of news is the Bolshevik "wireless." There are said to be about 500 British people in Moscow.

"BRITISH ARRESTED."

AMERICANS AND ITALIANS FLEE TO SWEDEN.

An Exchange Copenhagen message says that late on Thursday evening 150 travellers arrived in Sweden from Russia. They were members of the American and Italian Legations and the American Bank of Moscow, including 12 Americans and 72 Italians.

They report that the British Legation in Moscow has been arrested and the American and Italian Legations were also to have been arrested, but the latter succeeded in flying from Moscow to Capri.

Murder of Capt. Cromie. Reuters' Agent is informed that, according to reports, those that had just reached London, Capt. Cromie's remains were thrown into a cellar, whence they were removed and taken to the British church. The Bolsheviks at first refused permission for their removal, but finally, on the demand of the neutral legation, they were taken to the church, the coffin being placed under the flag of the legation in question. Probation of the remains will be brought to England.

According to a Russian wireless message received yesterday Lenine is "dying," or "improving" all through last week.

BOLSHEVIKS LOSING.

Recruiting Work for a World Revolution.

Amsterdam, Saturday.—A Berlin telegram to the Cologne "Gazette" describes the formidable hostile forces encircling the Bolsheviks. After menning the Entente forces operating in the north, the journal continues: "In the south, the Donets there are about 50,000 Cossacks under General Asanoff. On the other side of the Caucasus the Georgians are in Tiflis. The mountaineers of the Caucasus are in revolt. The Black Army, after Kavkaz fighting is in progress between Bolsheviks and Cossacks. Anti-Bolshevik risings have broken out in Petrovsk and Astrakhan."

Prominent Risings. The northern part of the eastern front from the Bolsheviks around Esterberg. On the 1st of September, the Bolsheviks after their initial success again lost Syzran when the Siberian railway crosses the Volga. Further down the east coast of Siberia they fighting the Cossacks. Between the Urals and the Czech movement has been overwhelmed by the Russian anti-Bolsheviks.

Entente Advance in Siberia. In Eastern Siberia where there are 20,000 Bolshevik troops the Entente forces are advancing northwards on the Usurp front. The Soviet Government's Army reports must be taken with the greatest reserve. In the interior continued plots seem to be evoking a great measure of counter terrorism. The Government is endeavouring to raise the spirits of its supporters. Recruiting work for the world-revolution continues and Press Bureaus are to be established abroad for this purpose. The opening of such a Bureau in Stockholm appears to be imminent.—Reader.

OFFICIAL BAKERIES.

N.R. TO BE OPENED IN OXFORD-STEET.

The plan to have town bakeries is now before the Government. The proposal is that towns should have their co-operative bakeries, where the baking would be done by mechanical processes, one large bakery taking the place of many smaller ones. In this way, it is claimed, labour, fuel, flour, transport, and over-lapping distribution costs would be saved. One of the 4 new National Restaurants to be started in London will be in the great Oxford shopping area. The National Restaurant in New Bridge-st. will be extended, or a new one opened, in the neighbourhood. An order bringing all apples under control will probably be issued by the Ministry of Food this week. At present only small apples are controlled. The new order will doubtless fix wholesale and retail apple prices.

CLAPHAM 'BUS FATALITY.'

ANOTHER WOMAN INJURED. One woman was killed and another seriously injured as the result of an accident in Clapham last night. A National omnibus proceeding from Richmond to Peckham Rye had just passed the junction of Clapham Park-road, when in order to avoid a cyclist the driver steered close to the pavement and the bus knocked down and ran over a woman who had lost her balance. A shop blind and a gas street lamp were also caught by the bus, and the lamp fell on another woman.

FAMOUS INN SAVED.

The agitation against the closing of the famous Cat and Fiddle, the highest inn in England, situated on the Cheshire and Derbyshire hills, has resulted in a long lease being entered into by a well-known gentleman, who proposes to rebuild the inn, and to make it a centre for motorists and take in 20 acres for shelter. The news that the inn has been saved has given great delight to motorists. The inn has been licensed for more than 100 years.

AN EXAMPLE TO SLACKERS.

Mr. Cecily Maude, the well-known Conductor of the famous chorus of the late Gen. Sir Stanley Maude, who, although nearly 50, while working in Woolwich Arsenal joined the Horse Transport of the A.S.C. as a private, has been granted a commission in the corps. Mr. Maude, who left Ireland 2 years ago to do munition work in the Arsenal, joined up immediately the Army age limit was raised.

When the Coast was Clear.

He went out for the police, who came and arrested Street. The latter was very mad; he made a running kick at witness, catching him in the stomach and causing him much pain. "If," the witness added, "I had been in a fit state I would not be in court to-day." P.C.s Barber and Lomax gave evidence to the effect that they had never heard of the Conscripted and dandled what some of them were doing today. (Applause.) The prizes of the sports were distributed by Mrs. Schreiner.

FOR THE DISABLED.

Mr. Hodge, Minister of Pensions, aims to raise £3,000,000 per annum to re-establish civil life officers and men disabled in the Great War, and a substantial gift of £20,000 Mr. J. P. Drayton promises another £5,000, when the first million is reached and a further £5,000 to start the second million. Cheques, crossed and made payable to "The King's Fund," should be sent to Westminster House, Millbank, S.W.1.

The West of England has taken up the cry for internment all over the country.

A decree is to be held by the National Party on Tuesday at the Colston Hall, Bristol. Brig.-gen. Page Croft and Mrs. Dacre will preside.

And Their Beer.

Trouble is threatened in Warwickshire coalfield unless an improvement is brought about in the supply of beer. The miners are unable to obtain beer after leaving the pit, and that it is reserved for special customers.

Honours for a V.C.

Following the example of London, Sheffield has decided to reward the men who have distinguished themselves.

There was a procession of gaily decorated carriages, representing Britannia and Her Allies, a gay encampment, and about 100 men in uniform, including a number who were in competition for prizes. Judging took place at Bantam Cross. An athletic sports followed at which Brig.-gen. Milman, the Mayor of Bantam, Mr. Sanderson, Mr. King, and others were present.

ENTICED HER AWAY.

Cowardly Deserter and the Soldier's Wife.

At Stratford, yesterday, Belcher Street (42), a labourer, was charged with assaulting Geo. Perry, a private in the Berks Regt., and also with being a deserter from the King's Royal Rifles. Perry, who was 32, was a gunner in the South African Medical Corp. Social Club, and the Hon. W. P. Schreiner High Commissioner for South Africa, deputised for him. He said he was pleased to see so many smiling faces, and thought they had every reason to smile, for it was an indication of the true sporting spirit. He doubted if the men had much time to trace the man who had deserted, and whether there were such smiling faces there at the present time. They had not the sporting spirit in Germany, such as was to be seen in England, and, as was possessed by our soldiers in France, where they were engaged in winning the war.

He said winning the war—for they were going to win it one day. The sporting spirit of Englishmen had enabled them to win many battles and even if the war lasted another 5 years or more Englishmen would still have their sports, and, with smiling faces, fight on until they won. After commenting on the Boy Scouts, he said: "I am a deserter and there was a song well known in England, which many of them held sacred, though one did not hear it sung so often now. It was 'It's a Long, Long Way to Tipperary,' a song that would never be forgotten, because it was so closely associated with the Old Contemptibles." They all knew what the war was like, he said, and dandled what some of them were doing today. (Applause.) The prizes of the sports were distributed by Mrs. Schreiner.

CRASH ON L. & N.W.R.

Early yesterday the L. & N.W.R. mail train from Crews to Leeds crashed into a goods train from Goole to Thirsk at about 11 o'clock on Friday night, and with the mail train, a 2nd class, a 3rd class, and a 4th class, all three coaches, were derailed and the latter two were smashed.

A soldier and a woman passenger of the mail train complained of shock, but after medical attention were able to proceed on their journey.

LONG FACES IN GERMANY.

MR. SCHREINER AND THE WAR.

On account of other important duties Gen. Smuts was yesterday prevented from attending the annual sports held in Merton Park yesterday afternoon, the auspices of the South African Medical Corp. Social Club, and the Hon. W. P. Schreiner High Commissioner for South Africa, deputised for him. When he got better he went to France again, and he then received information that all was not right at home. He afterwards learned that prisoner had unicided his wife away from him. When he came home wounded again he tried to find out who had traced him, and whether there were such smiling faces there at the present time. They had not the sporting spirit in Germany, such as was to be seen in England, and, as was possessed by our soldiers in France, where they were engaged in winning the war.

He said winning the war—for they were going to win it one day. #### DEPUTATION ON DOORMAT.

The annual report of the London Trades Council says that mention of the treatment of the Joint Labour Deputation by the Tramways Committee is necessary to remind the workers of the folly in placing municipal control in the hands of those who think the workers' rights are on the doormat with their convenience.

The deputation was invited to attend at 3 o'clock to state the case against the abolition of return and half-penny fares; also the stopping of transfer tickets on certain routes. After waiting over an hour for the committee's convenience the deputation left the building.

PANIC AT A CINEMA.

Many Children Injured in Rush for Exits.

Owing to the bursting of an electric globe in the auditorium of the Hanover Cinema, Birmingham, yesterday, a panic occurred amongst the children in the building. A number of them were more or less seriously injured. A thunderstorm was raging at the time, and this added to the fear of the children, who rushed for the exits. An alarm of fire was also raised. Seven children were seriously injured, but were soon recovered. First aid was rendered. 11 of the children were removed to the General Hospital, 2 of them unconscious. One child, aged 3, was suffering from a fractured skull. All the others were able to go home.

THE JEWISH NEW YEAR.

Everywhere in the Jewish districts in London yesterday were heard fraternal salutations in connection with the Jewish Year, 5679, and all business is suspended until Tuesday. Closed shops were everywhere and even if the war lasted another 5 years or more Englishmen would still have their sports, and, with smiling faces, fight on until they won. After commenting on the Boy Scouts, he said: "I am a deserter and there was a song well known in England, which many of them held sacred, though one did not hear it sung so often now. #### SCIENCE AND INVENTION.

STATE APATHY CONDEMNED.

Britain will have to take a leaf out of Germany's book if she is to hold her own in the matter of scientific invention when the war is over.

A start in the right direction has been made by the promotion of the British Scientific Products Exhibition, which closed yesterday at King's College, Strand, after a run of 6 weeks.

The exhibition has shown, said Prof. R. A. Gregory, chairman of the Organising Committee, to a "People" representative, that there is a very large number of people intellectually interested in the scientific developments of industry. There has never before been a suitable opportunity of permitting the public to get a glimpse of what has been done by scientific work, and the response to the article in this occasion has agreeably surprised the promoters of the exhibition.

A National Kitchen, designed to provide 5,500 portions daily, is now to be arranged in the hall of the soldiers' hostel in Buckingham Palace, and decorated a number of its canton workers' beds.

St. Paul's Cathedral is holding 3 flag days this Saturday.

The Naval Exhibition at Princes' Galeries, closes next Saturday.

A permanent war shrine is to be erected on Islington Green, near the Royal Agricultural Hall.

Hornbeam Rooms, Kennington, S.E., have been taken over by the military, and will be used for billets.

Highgate District Council have paid £1000 for the electricity undertaken since the commencement of the war.

The Royal Parks Band will play in Hyde Park to-day (Sunday), to-morrow, and Tuesday, from 3 to 5, and from 9.30 to 9.45 at Greenwich Park the Dennis Borough Prize Band will present from 6 to 8 this evening.

PLOTTERS FOOD PRODUCE.

Mr. Geo. Barnes, M.P., speaking at a plotter's food holders' exhibition at Birmingham, yesterday, said there were over a million and a half allotment holders in the country, each producing an average of a ton of food per year. This meant also a saving of shops space. They had been created by means of scholarships for State-aided secondary schools for the creation of trained workers.

British Brothers League.

Steps are being taken to establish in Britain an organisation to be called the British Brothers League, to secure the transference of Jews to Palestine under the auspices of the British Government.

Debtors and the War.

The "Statist" has a suggestion which will make Churchmen angry. To pay the war debt it advocates the disowning of the Church of England. But the money secured had been largely made by such workers.

ST. LECER SUBSTITUTE.

WHAT WILL BE THE MANTON BEST?

Nothing has occurred since I last wrote to cause me to revise my opinion, that Manton holds the key to the St. Leger Substitute, the September Stakes. There may, however, be some change in his mind in reference to Gainsborough, though no confirmation is to be gleaned of them, and he has arrived at Newmarket as fit and well as possible.

The question about My Dear having also progressed in a satisfactory manner. Earlier in the season she was said to be as good as Gainsborough, but the Newmarket horses are likely to play a looking-part. Manton may score a second success.

THERMOGENE***
Interest. Manton promises to dominate the September Stakes, and it is quite likely that Alec Taylor will saddle the first 3 horses, so deficient in staying power as the opposition.

On Tuesday the Middle Miles Handicap will attract several sound stayers. It is very open, but I have good accounts of ST. TUDWALD. CARAPACE is a useful colt, and will warrant a trifle for the Tuesday Stakes, whilst may carry our blue stars successfully in the Heskin Plate.

I have already dealt with the September Stakes on Wednesday, and in which the Newmarket horses are likely to play a looking-part. Manton may score a second success.

THERMOGENE*

A 2-year-old that has never run, but who is understood to be very smart. She takes the maiden allowance, of course, and is expected to win the St. Leger Substitute.

There may be no show, but Treclare has gone lame, it looks more than ever as though Manton will finish first and second—even if not first, second and third.

In the Doubles.

I know that Gainsborough has been sold to the public for £100 of money. Not just yet, but in September Stakes time there has been little or no wagering directly on the race, but in Derby and September Stakes doubles, it's well at the post he is therefore likely to remain a good odds-on chance.

He does not go for a show, but Treclare gives him a bustling up. How often have we seen in this mare's month the three-year-old fillies leave all their pretensions behind?

I am in a position to say, too, that Zephyra has recovered all her old-time action and ability. There is no doubt she was all wrong before the Derby and Oaks, but that her training can be entirely ignored. She is likely

THE DONKEY DERBY.

THE CHAMPIONSHIP.

Success has again to be written in connection with the Donkey Derby at Stamford Bridge on Tuesday. Unfortunately, it was impossible to keep the ground clear of the public, and this seems to have prompted the star attraction of the really wonderful programme, and the King's Fund for Disabled Men is certain to benefit to the extent of a good round sum.

Any emulated referee willing to assist the London Munitions and Red Triangle Football League this season should send his name to Mr. K. H. Lovewell, Y.M.C.A., 24, Great Russell-street, W.C. Fees and expenses allowed.
